IJSPP Editor Emeritus professor Carl Foster is set to receive the 2024 American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) Honor Award in Boston this May for his outstanding work in academia over many decades. The Honor Award of the ACSM is granted to an individual with a distinguished career of outstanding scientific and scholarly contributions to sports medicine and/or the exercise sciences. The contributions may be in the basic, applied, and/or clinical sciences; allied health; and/or education.

Carl receives recognition as one of the giants in our field, and there is truly no one more deserving of this than him. In his humble way and with the sole goal of understanding the world a bit more, he has been shining like a star, lifting up people around him, and illuminating the path for the rest of us!

A big congratulations from the entire IJSPP team!
