Figure S2

Estimated calibration error before and after auto-calibration over time in the Tromsø Study. The estimated calibration error is lower during summer than winter while activity levels are higher during summer.